WHAT CHANGED IN VERSION 6.0

Built around your process

The mapping work uses a delivery process the room actually owns, so the waste found is real.

Waste made visible

Bottlenecks, delays, and rework surface as measurements rather than opinions.

An improvement plan

The session closes on a future-state map and the changes needed to reach it.

01 · PROGRAM OVERVIEW

You cannot improve what you cannot see

This half-day workshop teaches value stream mapping and then has you do it. You learn value streams in SAFe and the fundamentals of mapping, build a current-state map of a real process, measure lead and cycle time, and identify where value stalls.

The session closes on analysis and a future-state map — bottlenecks named, waste quantified, and an improvement plan the group can take back and act on.

THE AGILE36 DIFFERENCE

You identify process steps, lead time, and cycle time on a stream you can take back to the ART.

Every class is live, capped for discussion, and led by a certified SAFe® Practice Consultant.

02 · WHY THIS CERTIFICATION, NOW

The delay is rarely where people think it is

Ask a team where the hold-up is and you will get an opinion. Map it and you get a measurement — often showing that the work sits idle far longer than it is worked on. This workshop exists to replace that opinion with a picture everyone can see and argue from.
